LEWIS & CLARK GRADUATE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION AND COUNSELING

Gambling Specialist Pre-Certification

$195 30 CEU's

Integrated Technology Course (online & on-campus)

Integrating the latest evidence-based practice, this course is designed specifically for behavioral health professionals interested in this important area of addiction specialization. The course leads towards fulfilling the gambling specific education requirements of Oregon's CGAC (Certified Gambling Addictions Counselor).

This course will address the following problem gambling specific education areas:

- ◇ Definitions of gambling and problem gambling
- ◇ Prevalence of problem and pathological gambling
- ◇ Specific subgroups of problem gambling including: youth, college students, women, minorities, and the elderly
- ◇ Oregon's problem gambling treatment system

Along with the above coursework we will address the following categories:

- ◇ Assessment and intake of the gambling client
- ◇ Financial planning and budgeting for the gambler and significant other
- ◇ Gambling counseling for individual
- ◇ Gambling counseling for group, and family
- ◇ Gambling case management
- ◇ Ethics and professional responsibility
- ◇ Crisis intervention for gamblers and significant others
- ◇ Co-occurring disorders with problem/pathological gamblers
